Earlier Taxes are Asked by League

An all out effort to establish Lake County's tax spending operations on a strictly cash basis without resort to tax anticipation borrowing, have been launched by the Lake County Civic League. "Lake County tax bills could come out several months earlier than has been the case if every official and every department would conform to the prescribed time schedule," according to League President Dwight Ingram, who has initiated a drive in an open letter to all Township Assessors. The League's letter to the assessors follows: While this is an open letter, it is intended to be a very personal message. It conveys to you the thanks of the CIVIC LEAGUE for the conscientious public service which all township assessors have given to taxpayers in the past, together with our hope for your cooperation in further improving the administration of the property tax. The Lake County Civic League is undertaking to observe each step in the procedures of property assessment and the collection of the property tax for the year 1962. This project was originated in part because some citizens and public officials, including Judiciary Committee of the County Board, have proposed the creation of the office of County Assessor, or a County tax department which would have complete power over the property tax. The Civic League stands firmly in support of township assessors, because this method means that valuations are determined by neighbors who understand local conditions in each community. The Civic League also believes that the existing departments and boards of the County Government are capable of carrying through the review and collection of the property tax efficiently. The property tax is important because it is the principal source of revenue of all local government units. Our hope is that in the administration of the tax, the township assessors will establish fairness between taxpayers and that every department or board will expedite the handling of the tax books. We believe that with greater vigor and efficiency, tax bills can be sent out three months earlier. This speeding up of the schedule can reduce the cost of local government. School boards and other tax spending bodies can get cash discounts and will not have to pay so heavily for borrowed money through anticipation warrants. The next step in the machinery of administering the property tax, calls for the Township Assessors to complete their assessments and return the rolls to the Supervisor of Assessments early in June. We earnestly urge each assessor to exert every effort to meet this deadline and help our County Government operate on a strictly cash basis.

Bill Goewey Sells Show

Long time residents and business people in Antioch, Mr. and Mrs. William Goewey are soon to leave Antioch for Florida. Mr. Goewey, who has for the past four years owned and operated the Antioch Theater, recently sold his business to Henry C. Ryan, who is the present owner of the Family Outdoor Theater in Grayslake. Living in Antioch since 1954, the Goeweys have one child, Michael, 11, who is a grade school student in Antioch. Before coming to Antioch, Mr. Goewey worked in the Chicago Theater circuits, starting into theater management in 1939. He served three years in the OSS during the Second World War in Europe. All in all he has had an aggregate total of 23 years in the business. Mr. Goewey estimated that over 1000 persons a week patronized the Antioch Theater under his management. The Goeweys will move to Jacksonville, Fla., where they will continue on in the theater business. In speaking of Antioch, Goewey stated that "we hate to leave the town because we have so many friends here." Probably the children and teenagers who were loyal supporters of the theater will miss the Goeweys the most. "You get to know them," Goewey said, "When another manager takes over this theater it's like breaking in a new teacher in school."

Laundry Adds New Facility

Presently in the final stages of construction, the Antioch Launderette will soon have a new addition costing $50,000, according to its owner, Clifford Randall. The new addition, which is 20x100 feet, will capacitate new washers and driers plus dry cleaners. Present area is 24x75 feet. Twenty washers able to do double and single loads, ten driers and four dry cleaners will be available in the new addition. The dry cleaners have just recently been put on the market in the last 6 to 9 months. Equipped with modern gas and electric facilities, the entire building is expected to be in operation in three weeks. Randall has been in business since 1947 in Antioch.

Joint Organizations Set Summer Festival

Antioch's gala "Summer Festival" is, for the first time in this community's history, sponsored by a host of civic and social organizations—Lions Club, American Legion, Moose, Lake Region Jaycees and the Antioch Fire Department—all working in joint cooperation to make the biggest affair in Antioch and the surrounding areas for the year a success. The festival will be held on July 4 through 8 and the community has been preparing for months to handle the expected crowds. The big Barbecue, sponsored by the Lions Club, will take place on July 8 at 11:30 a.m. The American Legion will then sponsor the Sunday afternoon parade at 1 p.m. The Fire Department will show mock water fights during the afternoon about 3 p.m. and the Lake Region Jaycees will have their Lake Region Beauty Pageant in the evening, culminating the week's festivities. Many events will make up the festival—a full time carnival with exciting rides operating throughout the entire five days of the Festival (July 4-8), evening concerts by area bands and street dances for young and old. Saturday will be "kids day" at which time the merchants of Antioch will supply the community's children with free passes to the carney rides. All in all, the festival promises to be one of the most delightful and entertaining centers of activity in the whole of the Lake Region during the entire summer season. For further information Contact Jay Nash at the Antioch News 395-4111.

Open free to the public on Memorial Day, the Antioch Aqua Center began its season with a splash. Village children dived for circus prizes that will materialize at the Jaycee circus Monday and carnival tickets to the rides at the Antioch Summer Festival this coming Fourth of July week.

The pool opened at 1:30 p.m. and will continue to open to the public throughout the year at that time. Closing time is 8 p.m. Saturdays the pool is open in the morning at 10:30. Pre-scheduled swimming instruction classes for youngsters and beginners will take place during the week before 1:30 p.m. Private parties may rent the pool for special occasions throughout the season after 8 p.m. reported Dr. George Jensen, publicity chairman of the Center.

This year's manager of the operation will be James Corrigan, an English instructor at Antioch Township High School. Mrs. Winnifred Sorjonen will be in charge of the Aquatics and Mrs. Charlotte Queen is handling the swimming instruction courses. President of the corporation is Preston J. Reckers, Jr. Due to the resumption of school this week, the pool will be closed Thursday and Friday, officially opening on a permanent basis this Saturday.

Food at the refreshment stand and picnic area is available to the public. Pool passes will be on sale this weekend at the Jaycee Information Center—the remodeled DX station on the corner of Lake and Main Streets.

EMPLOYEE FAINTS

The Antioch Rescue Squad received a call from Regal China company to attend one of their employees who suffered a fainting spell last week Tuesday. Dr. James Kopriva attended Milace Sexton when the call came in at 10:20 a.m.

Resident Protests are Expected by Committee

The Planning and Zoning Commissions will meet at a public hearing on June 7 in the fire house. The Planning Commission will hold its meeting from 7 to 8 p.m. This commission, comprised of local residents, is expected to pass a resolution, not an ordinance, for the village board's consideration. This resolution, to be announced at the meeting, concerns area a mile and half within the radius of Antioch proper. Appointed by the village board, the planning commission is comprised of George Palanke, Art Laursen, Bob Wilton, Elmer Rentner and Ernest Glenn. Trustee Dave Nilsson is chairman of the commission. All of the appointees were named to their posts last year and meet several times during the year to confer on plans and zoning of the village. The Zoning Commission is obligated to regulate, determine, redistrict and establish the boundaries of the business, industrial and residential areas of the village. The Village's Zoning Booklet, assembled by Everett Kincaid & Associates of Chicago, professional planning consultants, stipulates that the aim of the commission is to "promote and protect the public health, safety, morals, comfort and general welfare of the people."

Jaycees Open Info Center

Redecorating the old DX station on the corner of Main and Lake streets, the Lake Region Jaycees opened their Information Center on that site on Memorial Day. The center will give information and guidance to tourists interested in seeing local sights of interest as well as helpful hints on resorts, hotels, motels, and an entire calendar of events. Brochures and pamphlets detailing the entire area's summer activities will also be available to the public at no expense. The Center has been thoroughly painted, has new blackboards, signs and a new tile floor. A guest desk for civic organizations to use for selling tickets for special events has also been made available by the Jaycees. Hours for the center are: weekdays—Monday through Thursday 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Fridays 10:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturdays the Center will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Sundays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Bicycle Safety Program Held

The Loyal Order of Moose, Lake Region Jaycees, and Antioch Lions Club wish to thank all parents and teachers for urging the children to participate in the Bicycle Safety Program which was held Sunday, May 20 at the Antioch Grade School Playground. The majority of bicycles inspected were in top notch shape, most of them with horns, lights and reflectors. Of the 12 trophies awarded 6 were boys and 6 were girls. One-half of a point divided the top 3 contestants with 1st grand prize going to Sue Deitrick, 2nd to Mark Roberson and 3rd to Sally Meyer. Other trophy winners were Kevin Mortensen, Margo Nadr, Dave Strang, Mike Horton, Joan Gussarson, Louann Gussarson, Kent Barlow, David Young and Krista Barlow. The parade, which proceeded north on Main Street from the high school, ended at the village park in front of the pump house where Father Alfred Henderson spoke briefly.

Professors Will Be Heard

Objectors to any plans the commission has made so far may register their disapproval at the meeting in the Fire House on June 7. If they are not present, they can also be heard through representation of another person or a letter. The Zoning Board will hear requests but will not necessarily act upon them that evening. Instead giving general answers and referring specific matters to committee for further consideration. Maps of the present planned out areas of zoning in Antioch are available for inspection at the Village Court House and will be presented for public consideration on the night of the meeting.

Vets March in Local Parade

A Memorial Day parade was held in Antioch Wednesday which started at 1 p.m. Parade Chairman John L. Horan arranged the entire project many weeks in advance. Among those enlisted to march in commemoration of the country's war dead were the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, the Antioch Fire Department and Rescue Squad, the Boy Scouts and both High School and Grade School Bands. The parade, which proceeded north on Main Street from the high school, ended at the village park in front of the pump house where Father Alfred Henderson spoke briefly.

SUFFERS LUNG AILMENT

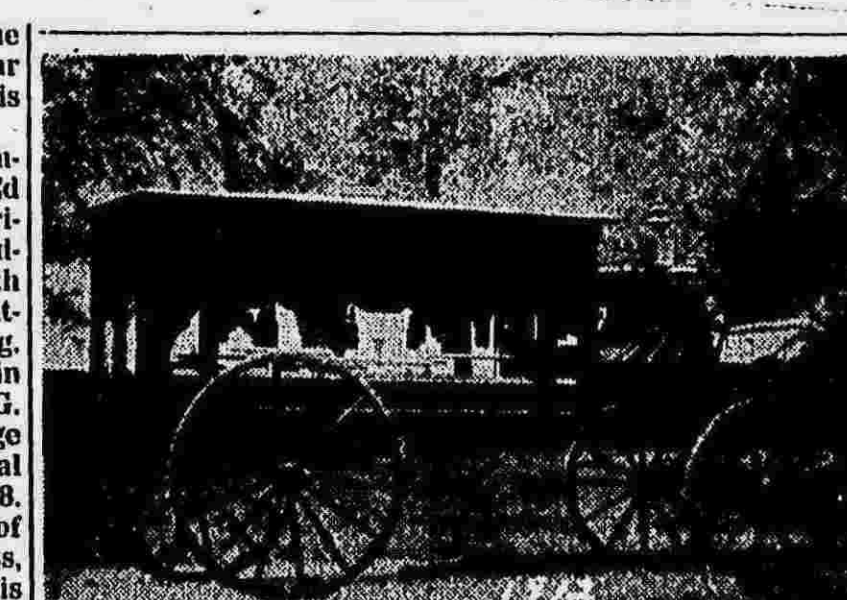

Alonzo Runyard, 61, of Beach Grove Road, suffered breathing difficulties last Friday and was attended by the Antioch Rescue Squad. The squad was called to treat Mr. Runyard at 1:30 p.m.

Local Restaurateur Opens at Twin Lakes

Mrs. Mary Topercer, owner of Mary's Restaurant on Main Street, recently acquired the Edgewater Beach Hotel Restaurant at Twin Lakes. The restaurant will be renamed Mary's, which is the same name as Mrs. Topercer's Antioch restaurant. Twin Lakes is a long-time resort town. Mrs. Topercer stated that the restaurants in the locale did not provide for "a good meal at moderate prices." This is the type of service she intends to provide. Among her plans for the restaurant, Mrs. Topercer projects the idea of having an organist for Saturday and Sunday dinner music. Smorgasbord will be served on Sundays. Being a seasonal enterprise due to the locale being a strict resort town, the new Mary's restaurant will be open from June 9 to September, on Labor Day. Mary's Restaurant in Antioch has been operating successfully under Mrs. Topercer for the past seven years. She will continue to operate the Antioch restaurant. The Edgewater Beach Hotel Restaurant has been serving tourists from Milwaukee and Chicago for many years. Mrs. Topercer also plans to open another restaurant in Hayward, Wis., located next to Round Lake sometime in the future.

Strang Funeral Home Operates for 50 Years

The Strang Funeral Home will celebrate its fiftieth year of business in Antioch this year. Along with the commemoration of the home, Edmond Strang, present proprietor, has had the entire building remodeled with a south addition recently being attached to the main building. The business was started in Antioch in 1912 by Lee G. Strang, whose father George E. Strang began his Funeral Service in Grayslake in 1898. Third-generation member of the family in the business, Edmond Strang continued his father's business when he assumed the head of the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch in 1950. Oldest business of its type in Antioch, the Strang Funeral Home has just recently complete remodeling of its entire premises. A new office has been added to the ground level floor of the building in the rear along with an extending hallway. An entire south wing has been built into a chapel, family room, music room and casket display area. The all air-conditioned area added, 24x48 in footage, was designed by architect Marvin Heath. Additional rest rooms, a new front office, foyer, outside paint, decorations and signs have also been added to the building. Included in the remodeling is an all air-conditioning unit,

WHEN LEE G. STRANG began the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch, one of his first purchases was this horse-drawn hearse with thick drapes and glass enclosures for public view.

Those Beyond Valour

American troops are at the ready on the Lorton border. Western and Eastern guns face each other in Berlin. Hundreds of thousands of American boys are serving in an uneasy peacetime army. Washington is wobbling on top of shaky Wall Street. Russia and America soar spaceward in an un-united and competitive effort.

The world has changed little.

Memorial Day, 1962, was peaceful and sunny. Bands marched, flags whipped in the breeze, citizens tried to remember exactly what the day meant—this national holiday for soldiers long gone from the scene of life.

There was, perhaps, on the part of many, a tendency to think of the day as a time to recall heroes and titans of personal courage and feats. They forget that our war dead were simple soldiers or sailors or flyers. There were millions of them from all our wars. The symbol behind their deaths, not their deaths alone, is what we honor.

Our wars were fought in preservation of our liberty. This is a common heritage that must be protected again and again. Every war has been fought to "end all wars" or to "make the world safe for democracy." The soldiers who fight them believe in these premises. That is why we honor them on Memorial Day—for an unshakable faith in the principles of freedom and equality.

In death, these simple men of faith, our soldiers, resemble a nation forever burning the lamp of freedom. Their deaths are beyond valor and glory, but becoming the spiritual life of the country and the pride of the future.

If we do not forget the reason for this ultimate sacrifice, then Memorial Day will be forever remembered as a time when men realize the importance of what has been bought in blood by other men for them and feel the necessity to do the same for the next generation.

Your Governor Reports by OTTO KERNER

A $7 million appropriation for the education of gifted children will be recommended to the Illinois General Assembly at its next biennial session. The appropriation and the tentative program were explained at a series of five Governor's Conferences on Developing the Talents of Youth.

The conferences were attended by school officials, civic and community leaders from all areas of the state. The recommendations are based on a study by an advisory council created by the legislature and reported at the conferences by Dr. David M. Jackson, coordinator.

In outlining the recommendations of the council, Dr. Jackson said: "The state can be proud of the progress which has been made in providing for the education of handicapped children, but we believe that special attention should also be given to those children whose deviation from the average is in the direction of unusually advanced intellectual capacities."

Currently school districts get state aid for educating the mentally and physically handicapped, but no aid is provided for programs for the gifted.

The council recommends that during the 1963-65 biennium, the reimbursement to a district for programs for the gifted should not exceed more than 2% of the total state aid the district receives. But in addition, the proposal stipulates the necessity of establishing a series of demonstration centers in public schools over the state, which ideally would not be more than 100 miles from any school. It has been determined that the best way to encourage schools to establish good programs is to have administrators see evidence of what can be accomplished. The demonstration centers would provide that opportunity.

The council's recommendations also include use of state funds for a small number of experimental projects to advance knowledge of programs for the gifted and for staff to assist at the demonstration centers and administer the reimbursement program.

The advisory council, which must report to the General Assembly by December 1, stressed that the recommendations are only tentative as the final results of the study will not be available until July. Suggestions from the conferees also will be considered by the council in the final recommendations.

Though some school districts have operated successful programs for education of gifted children, the State of Illinois has not seen fit to help financially in the program. It may be expected, after receiving the report of the council, that the General Assembly will give this serious consideration in its next regular session.

Air out the picnic basket, check the charcoal, and wash out the picnic jug! Our first summertime holiday is here. That's what the city-dwellers say, but to us in the heart of Recreation Land, the cry is a little different. Stock the refrigerator, plunge the boat in the water, and put out the pier! For the summer vacationers will soon be here.

While we are on the subject of vacationers, the annual migration trips to Canada have begun. Among those who have spent the past week in the fishing paradise of the Leaving next week is his North is Howard Gaston, "Right-Hand" Bud Biller.

In a second group of Northland visitors, who CLAIM to go fishing, are Ted Larson, George Hawkins, Chuck (Lakeview) Hawkins, Doc Kopriva and Bill Brooks, conversations without ill effect.

We couldn't talk about vacations without mentioning the fact that School's OUT this weekend! Notice the happy smiles on all the Moms' faces? One consolation, the pool opens Wednesday, and you and the kids can relax together. Try it this summer you'll find it very rewarding in both health and companionship with the children.

Wonder who holds the record for the most hot-dogs eaten at Kennedy's gas station last week end. I know I had my share, after all who can pass up a bargain like that? It was worth it even if you weren't hungry.

The Lions Club golf-outing last Wednesday brought out a large group of devotees of the greens. Heard that Bill Vos and Nick Badame tied for High Gross!

Practice must make perfect, for Bob Wilton won that golf match with Art Meyer! But then, he must have told you, by now.

There is a group of ladies planning an After Theater Party, to raise funds for the Swimming Pool. The scoop is this, the Palette Masque, and Lyre group are presenting the play "Teahouse of the August Moon" on June 22 and 23. The After Theater Party will take place Friday, June 22, and will be limited to 200 tickets. Only one stipulation! You must buy a ticket to the play in order to attend the party. Sound like fun? Then get a party together and call either Mrs. Helen Kopriva at 395-1416 or Mrs. Bette Meyer at 395-1158 NOW! They tell me almost 100 tickets are gone already.

Drive carefully this holiday. You may save a reader of Along the Way.

The Tax Collector

"An advertisement . . . sounds a local alarm about the latest leftist attack on capitalism in this country. The plan, now before the U. S. Senate after passing the House to use the withholding principle to collect taxes on interest and dividends paid by banks is another step in a calculated campaign. . . Children, widows and the elderly retired with savings are all capitalists and all will be forced to recover the taxes deducted in advance, since the vast majority of these groups either pay no taxes, or a rate under the 20 per cent to be deducted. . . It seems a shame that with so many truly staggering problems needing attention our government must bring forth laws that penalize the thrifty, the widowed and the old."—Southold, N. Y., Traveler-Watchman.

GOVERNMENT CONTROLS

"Now that President Kennedy has had such great success in controlling prices in the steel industry, there is no reason to believe he won't use the same tactics again, especially when he can make political hay. . . The President no doubt had what he considered to be the best interest of the country at heart, but what he did was wrong. It was not right for him to wield such crushing power. He has opened the lid to Pandora's box. The frightening things that will crawl out will accelerate our drift to the left, to the swamps of socialism, to the frustrations of a controlled economy and to the despondency of the most crushing depression this country has ever known.—Bisbee, Ariz., Brewery Gulch Gazette.

PENNING THE NEWS

Typewriter vs. Pencil or You may be an Excellent Penman, But

If there is anything that editors throughout the publication industry have in common, it is their insistence on accuracy. STORIES WRITTEN IN LONG HAND INVITE ERRORS.

It's impossible for you to type your story, print all names and addresses and leave no doubt in the editor's mind as to the spelling of ANY word in the story.

Following are a few basic rules to be used when typing your story, along with the reasons for doing so:

1. Type it double spaced, using one side of the paper only, on 8 1/2 x 11 paper. This allows the editor ample room between the lines to make what corrections, additions, or deletions he deems necessary.

2. Leave ample (1 1/2") margins, both on the left and right hand side of the paper. This gives the editor space for paraphrasing and, as this is standard form, makes it easier for him to estimate the space the story will take when set in type.

3. At the upper left hand corner, type the name of your club, company, group, etc. and your full name, address and PHONE NUMBER. This will identify you as a news source and he will have no trouble contacting you should any questions arise concerning your story.

4. Start typing the actual story at least one-third of the way down the page and keep it short. Most stories should be limited to one page. If the editor wants additional information, he will call you; this will give plenty of room for the editor to write a headline, and mark the story for type, style and column width. If there is a photo to appear with the story, that also must be stated on the story "copy."

If you follow these few, simple rules you will make the editor's job immeasurably easier and by the same token increase your chances of having your story appear in print.

Rising costs of turning out a newspaper make it imperative that all stories be told in as few words as possible. You'll get a lot more satisfaction out of seeing a brief item with all the essential information in print than you will contemplating that beautiful, long essay that found its way to the wastebasket.

Avoid the glowing tribute and the adjectives. If your story ends up over a page long, better reread it and do a little editing of your own.

An editor receives dozens, and sometimes hundreds, of publicity releases weekly, most of which are labeled "news." A large percentage of them are nothing more than thinly veiled free ads that should have been bought and paid for.

A brief examination of your story will tell you whether to take it to the editor or the advertising manager. If you are in doubt, visit them both.

Next week we'll take up the subject of how to avoid the needle and the importance of names.

that's THE LAW
A PUBLIC SERVICE OF
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION
IN COOPERATION WITH THIS NEWSPAPER

PROPERTY OWNER'S LIABILITY

A popular misconception of law has it that everyone who is injured on another's property is entitled to recover all damages he may have sustained from the owner of that property.

Property owners themselves, as well as those seeking recompense for injuries, often subscribe to this erroneous principle, and it is not at all uncommon for a home owner, discussing an injury at his home, to remark, albeit reluctantly, "Well, I guess I'm liable—the accident happened on my property."

This is NOT the law. The concept of "fault" is still essential to a recovery for damages in all but a few specialized fields of law (e.g., workmen's compensation) and mere ownership of private property does not produce the necessary "fault" for recovery.

Residence Property

In most cases of accidents on his residence property, a home owner will not be liable for the resulting injuries. This is because most visitors at his home and on his residence property will be social guests. Towards his guests a home owner owes the duty only of refraining from "wilful and wanton misconduct," and of warning them of any hidden traps. He is under no obligation to use any active care for their safety, and, if they are injured, he has no obligation to make good their damages.

This rule is derived from the nature of the relationship between the host and his guests—the host receiving no benefit from the visit except the pleasure of his guests' company; it would be unjust to place upon him the burden of protecting his guests from all injury.

As it was put by one Judge, the visitor in a home takes his host as he is and for the purpose of liability becomes a member of the host's family.

Business Guests

A different rule applies to persons who come on one's property for the purpose of a business in which the owner is engaged. Towards these persons the owner owes the duty of "reasonable care" for their safety.

Thus one who operates a store is liable to his customers for injuries they sustain as a result of his negligence. He must do what a reasonable man would do under the same circumstances to provide for the care and safety of these so called "invitees."

Attractive Nuisance

One exception to the general rule that the owner of property is not liable for injuries to persons coming on his property merely by permission or for social purposes, or as trespassers, favors minor children who are attracted onto the property by some inherently dangerous device which a reasonable man would know would tend to attract children.

Thus, if one maintains upon his property some type of dangerous machine plainly visible to children passing near the property, he may be held liable for their injuries occasioned by that machine if they are enticed by it onto his land and are too young to appreciate the dangers it presents.

This is known as the "attractive nuisance" doctrine and must be considered as an exception to the general rule, established solely for the protection of innocent children.

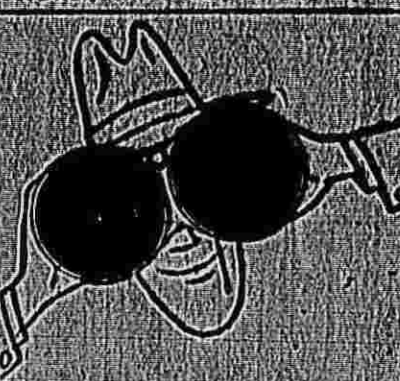

Contributory Negligence

Even where the owner of property would otherwise be liable for injuries to persons coming onto his property, the injured party cannot recover if he is also guilty of negligence which contributes to the injury.

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

The rehabilitation center movement for blind people is of comparatively recent origin, having started in the mid 1940's, according to the American Foundation for the Blind.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS
THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1962

By Jay Nash

A police garrison stationed within the walls of the political prison of Cadiz, Spain, was overwhelmed by the prisoners last week. A brief and uncorroborated story came across the radio wires and then was heard no more. Typical of the Franco regime and the blind backing of the United States, no word is ever heard.

For years now Franco sends a regiment into the mountainous regions of his country to wipe out what he terms as "bandits." Every year one of Franco's regiments limps back to its camp beaten by these so-called "bandits." Actually, the unrest within the city-dwellers—workers and middle class alike, even to the reaches of wealthy industrialists along with the Franco-hating farmers of the country—can be attributed to the Spanish Dictator's method of clouding over political and economic issues.

But after all, this is to be expected. Franco's rise to power in Spain was not exactly by popular choice.

Leading a group of motley nationalists a few disgruntled companies of soldiers stationed in northern Spain) and backed by hordes of Hitler's troops and Mussolini's armies, Franco declared an open revolt on Spain's infant Republic under the guidance of one of the most intellectual titans of our time—Jose Ortega y Gasset. Franco's move was sponsored by the hierarchy of nationalistic and wealthy estate holders who refused to have their land tolled without the use of unpaid peons. Hitler wanted to experiment with his weapons, and technicians; Mussolini desired to train his armies in the field for the oncoming war in Africa. Franco wanted to rule Spain. The Republic wanted peace and got war instead.

When Franco made his move in 1939, the people of Spain rose up in anger and armed themselves, going into the field of combat almost without leaders against trained armies. American and European writers, artists and musicians sympathized with the cause of the Republic and went to her defense. Out of the volunteer intellectuals grew the International and Lincoln Brigades. These troops, along with German volunteers, attempted to stop Hitler in another country, Italians who refused to kiss the boot that kicked them and Spaniards who believed in a word called Republic stopped the Fascists before the Alcazar close to Madrid for over a year before moving the Loyalist government of the Republic to Valencia.

The end came for Loyalist Spain in 1939 when the Aragon Front collapsed and Barcelona fell to Franco after the civilian inhabitants had been bombed and strafed by Nazi pilots for months. Since that eventful year, Franco has ruled Spain with the perennial iron hand. His military control of the country and his U. S. military pacts protect him from foreign interests and usurpations from within.

But the Spanish do not forget easily it seems. They continue to attempt to break the strangle hold Franco has upon the country. The open revolt in Cadiz would seem to support this fact.

Perhaps if our government in Washington had the freedom of investigation to inspect conditions in Spain, we might be able to take steps to remedy the situation. A person who can not dig a fresh well, put down a new road or improve his property without the government's approval, will not remain content for long.

"A government is not an earner—but merely a spender—a distributor of our taxes. Anything that President Kennedy or any president for that matter, says he will give to the people, he must first take from them. In such a case we inevitably grow poorer for the vital point that many miss is that the money comes from all of us."—East Dubuque, Ill., Register.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU BURKIN

One of the big problems to be tackled out for Lake County in the coming months concerns the broad field of public works, but there seems to be a concerted effort being made to confuse the issue with misinformation and purely local considerations.

At the center of the controversy is the proposed Lake County Public Works Department which was authorized by state statute and recommended by two special commissions or committees which devoted extensive study to the need of the county for such a department and the extent of the department's authority if it is created.

A group of county citizens devoted almost a year to an earnest study of the county's needs for a central planning and engineering department to coordinate activities in water and sewer systems, drainage, flood control and similar projects.

The citizens group found that a need exists and recommended establishment of the department.

This study was reviewed by a special committee of the county board which concurred in the findings.

Now everybody is trying to get into the act, the latest group to appear on the stage being the Lake County Water District, which claims it can provide better water and sewer system at less cost and insists that a public works department is not needed.

Apparently too much attention is being paid to just two facets of the public works department role since sewer and water systems would not be the only area in which it would work.

It seems to us that planning and engineering for the flood control programs and drainage programs, which will have to be implemented before too long, would be equally important and they are problems that overlap municipal or even township lines and should be integrated with sewer and water programs.

All of these programs should be coordinated with the long range comprehensive plan of the Lake County Regional Planning Commission and it is unlikely that a quasi-public body like the Water District would be inclined to submit to the recommendations and suggestions of the planners.

Cries of some shoreline communities that they don't need sewer and water systems and that they would be subject to double taxation through creation of a public works department have a hollow ring.

A county-wide public works department is no more incompatible with "home rule" than is a county-wide police force such as the sheriff's office, a county-wide public health department or the highway department which works with, over, and around local municipal departments.

The county board should proceed as quickly as possible with establishment of the department and should provide enough funds so that personnel can be hired and put to work on finding solutions to the problems facing the county before the problems become crises.

County Board Chairman Robert Dickson's new "advisory" cabinet composed of chairmen of each of the board's standing committees has some interesting possibilities and if properly utilized may wipe out some of the board bitterness which is getting in the way of board activity.

Purpose of the cabinet idea, according to Dickson, is to keep each committee informed of the activities of the others and to serve as an advisory group to the chairman, but its most important role could well be that of a peace-maker.

Democratic Central Committee Chairman William Hartnett seems to be wasting no time in cracking the whip over his committeemen and setting up a plan to boost Democratic influence in the county.

Hartnett is planning a sweeping drive to register every potential Democratic voter in the county, not so much with a view at this time of overtaking the GOP at the county level as cutting into the Republican majority at the state and national levels.

An accompanying step is the organization of township and precinct groups throughout the county.

It's admittedly an uphill fight, but Republican leadership might do well to keep a close eye on the developments.

1055 MAIN STREET
ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS

Late last year, work was started on the "face-lifting" of the Strang Funeral Home. A familiar landmark to Antioch residents for over 30 years, the "home" appeared as pictured above before hammers and crowbars began clearing the way for the remodeling.

Standing in the refurbished foyer of the Strang Funeral Home is Daniel Dugenske, one of the staff members of the Home. The foyer has been enlarged to extend almost the full length of the new south wing of the building. (Antioch News Photo)

The following firms who participated in this remodeling program congratulate the Strang Funeral Home and sincerely tender their best wishes for the future.

Lake Villa Cars Crash

A two-car accident involving a Lake Villa resident occurred last Sunday evening at Rte. 21 and Grass Lake Road. Robert C. Cogan, 34, of Chicago, was traveling north on Rte. 21 when, turning onto Grass Lake in a right hand turn, he struck the car of John E. Hedberg, 18, of Lake Villa.

At the time Hedberg had been backing out of a parking lot. Damages of a minor nature were done to the right side of Hedberg's car but no injuries were sustained by either party.

The accident occurred at 7:43 p.m. Both parties left the scene of the accident but reported its happening to the Lake County Sheriff's squad upon its arrival.

The report was made via the Waukegan office of the Lake County Sheriff.

Leon Releases Baseball Record

Coach Larry Leon of the Antioch Baseball squad recently released his general round-up information on the season.

Out of the fifteen games played by the team this year, between April 6 and May 22, only two of the contests were won. Those two victories were chalked up early in the season with the Sequoias' first two games against Wauconda and Round Lake.

Monogram winners on the squad were (seniors) Deryl Denman, Joe Enis, Ron Gable, George Hogan, Mike Horn, Bill Ozga, Joe Pleviak, Joe

Wolf, Bruce Wollpert (Mgr.), (Juniors) Don Blackman, Jim Brownlee, Roger Dowar, Doug Lang, (sophomores) Jim Wojcynski and John Bonner, (Asst. Mgr.)

Special honors were given to Joe Pleviak (most valuable player), Mike Horn (honorary captain), Joe Wolf and Mike Horn (most improved players) and Jim Brownlee (most team spirit).

The team itself finished eighth in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Antioch completed 42 runs for the season as compared to opponents having 107. The Sequoias racked up 82 hits for the season while opposition went for 117 hits. Antioch committed 50 errors throughout the season and opponents 33.

Antioch left 96 men on base and collected two double plays in the season.

Ron Nelson Hurls For Wisconsin

Ron Nelson, one-time Salem hurler, is currently pitching up a storm at the University of Wisconsin, ending his present season as a junior with a 3-1 record in big ten competition.

Majoring in Physical Education at the university in Madison, Ron had a 1.84 earned run average for the season and pitched 34 innings in seven games.

During the summer months, Ron pitches for the Twin Lakes team.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nelson of Lake Shangri-la in Wisconsin. He is a 1959 graduate of Salem Central High School.

Couch, Dan Yates, Gary French, Mark Olsen, Jerry Conforti, Bill Orth, Bob Nelson, John Bloss, Harold Gabel, Ray Nosko and Jim Bloss.

Young Bowlers To Have Feast

May 26 ended the 33 week schedule for the junior bowlers, with games like 245 rolled by Leslie Miller. He also had 143 and 126 for a 514 series, second high for the night.

Ernie Westlund, with 11 "200" games in league play this year, rolled 211, 206 and 137 for high series of 554. Dan Hammelberg was a close third with a 505 series, having games of 178-161-166.

Bill Ozga had a 204 game, and Bob Lenczewski had a 196 game, but can account for 15 "200" games this season.

These young bowlers will have their banquet at noon June 2, at Lorenz's Smart Country House, and their parents are very welcome to attend. The bowlers add that their budget allowance for their banquet does not cover their parents' meals.

Foreign Cars are Slated For American Action

ELKHART LAKE, Wis.—During the coming months, the initials F.I.A. will be seen more and more often in American racing.

The F.I.A. will be linked with the S.C.C.A. in advancing United States road racing on an international basis, and while most sports fans are probably aware that the latter indicated the Sports Car Club of America, the former is of less familiarity in the U. S. It is the Federation Internationale de l'Automobile, with general headquarters in Paris. In America, F.I.A. racing is handled by their Automobile Competition Committee located in New York City.

Just what is this F.I.A., anyway?

First off, the F.I.A. is the regulatory body which controls world championship racing and has made road racing the number one sport in Europe. It covers everything from insuring the competence of drivers to governing the handling of races—races for cars of every kind whether the purebred racing machines or "Formula One" or the touring or sports cars.

Here at Road America, the F.I.A. will participate in both the International June Sprints of June 16-17 and the Road America "500" of September 8-9. As always, the S.C.C.A. will also be conducting the races both times with the Chicago Region in charge.

The June Sprints will introduce F.I.A. racing to Road America, although cars of a different category will compete in September. For the Sprints, in addition to the full complement of S.C.C.A. cars, the F.I.A. machines of Appendix C will compete, these being sports models roughly corresponding to the "sports modifieds" of the S.C.C.A. (for instance, a modern Ferrari Testa Rosa could pass Appendix C, as could several other S.C.C.A. cars). In action will be cars from classes 7 through 15, with engine displacements ranging from 1,000 cc. to over 5,000 cc.

These F.I.A. machines will run in the 152-mile Sunday feature together with the high-powered modified sports cars of S.C.C.A.

However, in September the F.I.A. will play a considerably larger role for the "50"—and here the "gran turismo" (popularly called GT) cars will make their run. These are the famed Ferrari Berlinettas, Aston Martins, etc. of top power, plus an array of equally fine-crafted machines scaling down to less horsepower. This category is known as Appendix J.

To qualify under the F.I.A. regulations, cars must have self starters, doors, windshields and wipers, mudguards, luggage space and other essentials.

The technical description of an Appendix J Grand Touring car makes it obvious that these machines are excellently built: They are "vehicles built in small series for customers who are looking for a better performance and/or a maximum comfort and are not particularly concerned about economy." Bodies must enable a "normal touring use, in particular with regard to comfort, habitability, and protection against bad weather."

Most are closed cars, although there are some open machines, i.e., convertibles or roadsters.

At any event, the entrance of F.I.A. sanction to United States racing—and Road America in particular—will bring an "emphatic international slant to this country's competition and, in the "big picture," bring the world's road racing into greater unity.

Police are Taught By Army on Sabotage

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill.—The lid of an innocent-looking box is opened . . . and the release button on a home-made bomb is activated . . .

An alarm clock rings its harsh jangling interrupted by a sudden explosion as the unwinding alarm bell strikes a wire and closes the circuit on electrical bomb.

The top of a bottle is unscrewed, forcing a spring plunger to strike a detonating cap.

A box . . . a bottle . . . a clock . . . all common, everyday items that go unnoticed. Yet each is a potential deadly bomb.

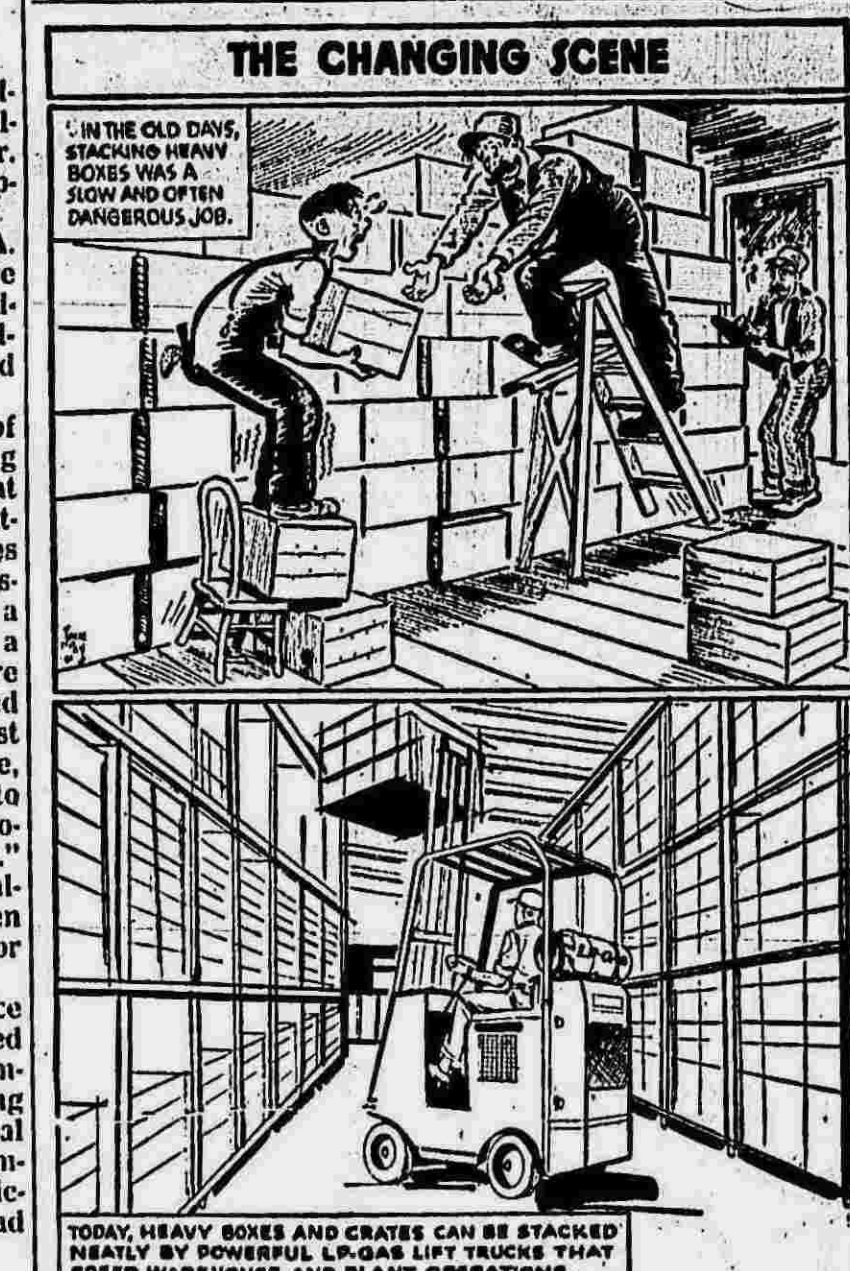

"The point we emphasize is that anything can be booby-trapped, and it's usually those items which appear most unlikely to be sabotaged that can blow up in your face," explains 1st Lt. Marion G. Lee, commander of the 51st Ordnance Co. at Fort Sheridan.

Lt. Lee heads a three-man team from the 51st, including S/Sgt. Thomas Callahan and Sp. 5 Robert Riley, which furnishes instruction in a special sabotage course to law enforcement agencies throughout the Midwest.

The team's most recent course was given May 21, 22 and 23 to 100 members of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, police department.

"This was the first time we've given instruction in actual disarming of bombs,"

TODAY, HEAVY BOXES AND CRATES CAN BE STACKED NEATLY BY POWERFUL L.P. GAS LIFT TRUCKS THAT SPEED WAREHOUSE AND PLANT OPERATIONS.

GOING HOME
Be it ever so humble, be sure that you make your way safely home after a day's driving. The home stretch, according to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, may be the most hazardous part of the driving day, particularly during the evening rush hours. Reasons: During these last few miles you may be impatient to reach home, you may be tired, you may become preoccupied with thoughts of a warm dinner and relaxation. Other drivers are similarly distracted. The accident frequency rate increases during the rush-to-get-home hours.

Lt. Leo reported, "In the past, we've averaged about two classes a month in explosive reconnaissance, usually given to civil defense authorities and firemen. But this is the first time for this particular course in recognition and application of rendering safe procedures on bombs and sabotage devices."

The course consists of 11 hours of explanation of the types of explosives, their design, fundamental operations and disposal. Police officers dismantle dummy bombs, make some of their own explosives and then are tested, with emphasis on safety in storing, handling, transporting and disposing. All three types of explosives—mechanical, electrical and chemical—are covered.

"We teach only on request," Lt. Lee said. "We expect to have several more requests for this course later on. The next instruction may be given to the Illinois State Patrol."

The potential value of such co-operation between civilian law enforcement agencies and the Army could be immeasurable. For the instruction which Lt. Lee and his team is furnishing could thwart any possible explosive attempts by the much-publicized "mad-bombers" and save untold lives and dollars.

It's doubtful that any course requires any more deadly or ticklish "homework." All the bombs used in the classes are dummies, with flash bulbs going off to simulate the actual explosion. But some of the booby-traps which Lt. Lee and his assistants demonstrate are so delicate that literally breathing too hard is enough to fill a room with smoke, fire and a big blast.

One home-made bomb which the team displays, for example, is activated when a piece of mercury, placed in a small tube, touches a wire, contained at each end of the tube. Mercury is so elusive and sensitive that the slightest jar moves it.

"A small bomb of this type can clear out a good-sized room," Sgt. Callahan notes.

Capitalistic Idea
Russia is now employing a powerful capitalistic persuader, incentive payments, in an effort to increase farm output and make good repeated promises to raise the standard of living and improve the national diet. . . . After breakfast on Sunday the girls left for home and their own churches.

Brownie Troop 210 of Grass Lake on Thursday, May 17, made a visit to Carl Hughes Tulp Farm in Millburn and this Thursday, May 24, they did some planting at Grass Lake Scout House. They have 11 girls in the troop and with the money they earned from the Brownie Nut Sale they donated their profit to the Countryside Hospital. Their leader is Mrs. Robert LaParo and co-leader is Mrs. Frank Bailey.

Tuesday, May 22, late afternoon Brownie Troop 126 of Lindenhurst held a Mother-Daughter banquet at the Lindenhurst Civic Center. This was a pot luck dinner, with decorations by the Brownies.

In the center of the serving table was a large decorated cake, and the banquet tables were decorated with vases of yellow tulips and yellow candles with white lace place mats. Each mother wore a yellow corsage made by her daughter. At the close of the dinner one-year membership stars were presented to 20 girls by their leader, Mrs. R. Claffy and co-leader Mrs. H. Pearce.

Also the girls who will have a birthday during the summer months were honored with birthday cards and Happy Birthday was sung by everyone.

Approximately 52 people attended.

Lindenhurst celebrated their Golden Anniversary planting day by planting a yellow rose bush and yellow forsythia bush on the grounds and transplanted Brownie marigolds into the planter in front of the building.

The marigolds were planted from seeds sown last February at 3:15 at the B. J. Hooper School Brownie Troop 216 of Antioch, Ill. by the girls and cared for by each one in her home.

Due to rainy weather the Sequoyah Area cookout that was planned for Saturday, May 26, was postponed until June 2 at the same time and place. We were all sorry that we couldn't carry out our plans, but let's get set for next week, girls.

Engineer Explains Watts and Volts

Watts, volts, amperes... yes, women know that these things somehow affect their household electrical appliances. But too often that's about all they know about electricity.

Frank W. Andrew, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois, answers some questions that homemakers frequently ask about electricity.

Q. Just what are volts, amperes and watts?

A. They're units of electrical measure. A volt is electrical pressure operating like the air pressure in a tire. Amperage is the quality of electric current in a wire conductor, as a certain number of gallons of water flow from a faucet in a minute. Watts measure the work done by electricity, as a cupful or teaspoonful measures ingredients.

Q. How do these operate together?

A. Voltage multiplied by amperage equals wattage. This electrical law explains why a 20 ampere fuse on a 120 volt circuit will blow when more than 2,400 watts of electricity are plugged in at one time.

Q. When a fuse blows, should I get a bigger fuse?

A. No. A fuse is like a safety valve. It will handle only as many watts as it is designed to handle safely. You should either have an electrician install additional circuits or rearrange appliances on different circuits. This evens out the electrical load.

Q. How can I tell whether a circuit is overloaded?

A. To find the total wattage a circuit is carrying, first unscrew the fuse. Add up the wattage of appliances operating on the circuit controlled by this fuse. When you unscrew the fuse, these appliances won't work. You may find that some circuits are overloaded, while others are loading.

Q. If I plug in an electrical appliance and it doesn't work, how do I find the trouble?

A. Check the power outlet by plugging in some other piece of equipment that you know is in good working condition. If there's no power at the outlet, then check the fuse box. A blown fuse will have a discolored "window." Sometimes, though, the fuse becomes faulty or burns out without giving this evidence.

AUTO VACATIONING

Starting out on an auto vacation trip? The following "must" items should be taken along, according to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company: (1) A first aid kit containing essential, medically recommended items. Special auto first aid kits are preferable. (2) Any medicines that may be needed, especially if they must be obtained by prescription. (3) Sunburn and insect lotions. (4) Flashlight with extra supply of fresh batteries. (5) Emergency flares, tire changing equipment, pliers and screw driver. (6) A can of pressurized tire sealer and inflator. And, of course, don't forget your route maps.

Homeowners Wanting to Improve Their Surroundings with Trees Will Be Happier with the Results if They Know the Growing Habits of the Shade Trees They Use, Says a University of Illinois Landscape Horticulturist.

Homeowners wanting to improve their surroundings with trees will be happier with the results if they know the growing habits of the shade trees they use, says a University of Illinois landscape horticulturist.

Honeybees are the only insect that can be produced in large enough numbers—and be depended upon—for use in cross pollination. Cross pollination is a "must" to set fruit on many trees. Among the fruits cross-pollinated by honeybees are apples, sweet cherries, many varieties of pears and some peaches. Other crops pollinated by bees include cucumbers, pumpkins, watermelons and lima beans.

In Illinois, it is the backyard gardener who gets the immediate benefit from these services of the bee. But indirectly, all consumers also profit from the bees' work.

MEASURED SKILL

A good driver measures his skill and safety by the rules of the road. The Institute for Safer Living states that only when a driver acquires both the desire and ability to consistently adhere to all traffic regulations can he qualify for the title, "good driver."

Sale of Bonds Soars in Illinois

Illinois Bond sales have soared over $26,000,000. Sales of Series E and H U.S. Savings Bonds totaled $26,255,248 last month. In the first four months of this year 31.4% of the annual quota of $382,000,000 has been attained. Illinois sales accounted for 7.5% of the national sales in the month which were $340,000,000. Purchases in the state were 11.8% below those for the same month last year.

Series E Bonds have been extended and can be held for at least another ten years. Series H Bonds, issued between the years 1952 and 1957 have also been extended for an additional ten years.

The tax on Series E Bonds can be deferred. Tax is not required until the bonds are cashed. E Bonds can also be exchanged for current income H bonds, thus further delaying the accumulated tax due on the E Bond.

OVERLOADED CARS

Families will profit more from a vacation auto trip by carrying less overtired. The Institute for Safer Living says that any overloaded car is an unsafe car, especially if the load is strapped to the top. Plan to take along only essential, dual purpose clothing. Keep sporting equipment and children's toys to a minimum. Leave family pets with neighbors or at a boarding kennel. Usually, the lighter you travel the more comfortable you will be—and safer on the highway, too.

Heart News Beat

More than five million Americans have high blood pressure, or hypertension, as doctors call it. In most cases, proper medical care helps the condition, says a leaflet titled "Your Blood Pressure," available on request from the Heart Council of Lake County.

Hypertension is "not necessarily a serious disease," the leaflet points out. But it adds that physicians "do not take it lightly" because it "puts an extra share of work on heart and arteries—these overworked parts may not function as well as they should if hypertension continues for a long time."

If you have symptoms that sometimes go with hypertension—headache, dizziness, fatigue—tell your doctor, the leaflet advises. It briefly explains what blood pressure is and how the doctor will examine you. He will tell you what treatment—if any—(such as drugs, diet, etc.) he considers best for you.

In addition, the leaflet says, there are some general rules that most hypertension patients should follow:

- Try not to worry.
 - Keep your weight normal—overweight overworks your heart.
 - Follow your doctor's advice on use of tobacco and alcohol.
 - Get plenty of sleep.
 - Choose sports that are not competitive.
 - Rest before you are tired.
- "Your Blood Pressure" is one of the Heart Association publications offered free to the public. For your copy write the Heart Council of Lake County, 210 Washington Street, Waukegan, CH 4-1210.

In spite of everything you can do, it's impossible to overcome the handicap of poorly adapted or "bargain" strawberry plants, says a University of Illinois horticulturist. Plants adapted to local conditions are least expensive in the long run.

Poll of the 13th District Shows Public Opinions

A public opinion poll of the 13th District in Illinois was recently taken by Marguerite Stitt Church, representative to the House. The poll, dealing with current legislative and foreign problems, was garnered from over 13,000 residents of the district.

On the power of individual states, 80% of those polled were in favor of gradual transfer back to the states and local communities of complete responsibility for local needs (slum clearance, sewage treatment plants, etc.) if some Federal tax sources are also diverted to the States.

A large margin of those polled were not in favor of Federal aid to education of any kind in the construction of schools, teachers' salaries and aid to private and parochial schools.

None of the current plans for medical aid to the aged were approved in consensus of the poll.

Administrational tax changes received diversified opinions.

Limitations on expense account deductions were backed by 87.7%. Tax credit for business expansion outlays received 68.8%.

Over 80% voted no on giving the President standby authority to impose tax cuts—subject only to veto by Congress.

Only 15.8% of those polled favored repeal of the present statutory requirement that Federal Reserve notes be backed by at least a 25% gold reserve.

The residents were in favor of setting up nationwide standards for State unemployment programs.

Fallout shelters, it was felt by the poll—87.3%—should be constructed from funds other than that of the Federal Government.

Close to 60% of the returned questionnaires stated that there was a need for a Federal drug law to regulate prices and testing of drugs.

The present U. S. embargo on trade with Cuba was wholeheartedly approved by a staggering 93.1% of those answering the poll. The majority of 73.0% again approved of unilateral military action against Cuba to protect U. S. interests.

avored action of the same nature in Latin America.

A resounding no was voted by 85.7% against U. S. aid to Communist-satellite countries. In this same vein, 77.6% of the residents voted against recognition of Communist China.

Oddly enough, 45.6% were in favor and 49.6% were against cooperating with the U. S. S. R. in space exploration. The President's decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere was backed by 83.0% of those polled.

UN action for a unified Congo was also approved by 44.3%.

The Big Four summit conference was also endorsed by 47.0%.

Lindane Spray Is Urged for Leaves

The Birch Leaf miner causes unsightly looking leaves on the birch trees in the month of June. To prevent this damage, action must be taken now, according to Lee Smith, Kenosha County Horticultural agent.

The birch leaf miner lays eggs on the younger leaves the later part of May. The larvae hatch in a few days and feed between the leaf surfaces producing the blotches or blisters.

The recommendation for control of the leaf miner is to spray with Malathion or Lindane when the small blisters first show up on the leaves, Smith said this
